My dear Mr Forman

I have received the letters, and am very glad they produced so favorable an impression on you. If ever you require them, they will always lie at your disposal, as well as many others I possess of both my Brothers. I dont think it is easy to meet with a family more devoted to each other than we were, perhaps it was owing in part to our being left orphans at an early age, and thus we clung closer to each other.

When I think of those happy times, I feel no longer old.

And now for the realities of life, the talent of living decently upon small means. I dont understand a word about business; but if you think it well to invest the money in Canadian stock, do so, and I shall be most gratefully obliged to you. If the Stock costs £212 there would still remain £18 for emergencies, besides the £12 per annum interest.

You will be sorry to hear that my widowed daughter and her three youngest children, are suffering from scarlet fever, the youngest a beautiful little girl of eight years, is not yet considered out of danger.

Give my love to your wife and mother, and with my most sincere wishes for your health and happiness

I remain My dear Mr Lennon

Yours very sincerely

Fanny Keats de Llanos

I enclose the Certificate, and upon reflection I think it would be better to add £8 to the three months pension, as so much illness has considerably increased the expenses of the last month. There will thus only remain £10 of the emergency fund. I trust you will excuse my troubling so much.

To Benton Lennon Esqre
